Library Plans Third Summer Chamber Festival

The Library of Congress Summer Chamber Festival will return for its third season in June. Artistic director Miles Hoffman has brought together 14 exceptional young musicians from six countries to be in residence in Washington, D.C., for the month of June. They will present five concerts and two open rehearsals in the Coolidge Auditorium. As in previous years, the programs chosen by Mr. Hoffman will reflect American music and 20th-century composition, as well as masterpieces of the traditional repertoire. American composers Leonard Bernstein, Norman Dello Joio, and George Rochberg will be represented in the programs, as will Beethoven, Bloch, Mahler, Mozart, Schubert, Stravinsky, and Villa-Lobos, among others.

Performances will begin at 8 p.m. in the Coolidge Auditorium, on Tuesday and Friday evenings, June 12, 15, 19, 22, and 26. The concerts are free to the public, with no tickets required. Seating will be on a first-come basis. Open rehearsals will be held on Wednesdays, June 13 and 20, at 11 a.m., also in the Coolidge Auditorium.

The 1984 Summer Chamber Festival artists are violinists Alexis Galpérine of France, Dong-Suk Kang of South Korea, and Junko Ohtsu of Japan; violists Matthias Buchholz of the Federal Republic of Germany and Miles Hoffman of the United States; cellists Evelyn Elsing, Ronald Thomas, and Peter Wiley, all of the United States; flutist Pamina Blum of Switzerland; clarinetist Loren Kitt of the United States; French hornists Anthony Cecere and Orrin Olson of the United States; and pianists Barbara Weintraub and Hugh Wolff of the United States.

The artists will also perform at the Candlelight Concert Society concerts in Columbia, Md., in cooperation with Howard Community College. Those concerts, held in the college's Smith Theater, will

Network Advisory Committee Plans Meeting at ALA Annual Conference

The Library of Congress Network Advisory Committee is sponsoring an update and information exchange on current Network Advisory Committee (NAC) activities on Tuesday, June 26, from 2 to 4 p.m., during the 103rd Annual Conference of the American Library Association in Dallas, Tex. This session will be held in the Convention Center, room T230.

Joseph Shubert, commissioner of New York State Library, will be the moderator and will introduce the speakers and the chair of the NAC after his opening remarks. A brief overview of the goals and objectives of the NAC will be provided by Henriette D. Avram, Assistant Librarian for Processing Services at the Library of Congress, who chairs the NAC and will discuss dissemination of results of Network Advisory Committee work.

The following members will provide an update on recent NAC efforts. Carol Henderson of the Washington Office of the American Library Association will discuss "Telecommunications—Increased Awareness of Major Changes and Particular Problems," a report on the October 1983 NAC meeting and the results of Federal Communications Commission ruling on AT&T divestiture; James Wood, director of the Bibliographic Operations Division of Chemical Abstracts Service, will focus on electronic delivery systems as they affect the publishing environment, the abstracting and indexing environment, the nontraditional information sources, new equipment and applications, and the library/library user interface; Deanna Marcum, Council on Library Resources, Inc., will

Audrey Chapman Will Lead Panel Discussion on June 6

Audrey Chapman, family therapist and human relations trainer, will lead a panel discussion entitled "Being Single" on Wednesday, June 6, from 10 to 11 a.m. in the Mumford Room (LM 649). Sponsored by the Women's Program Advisory Committee, the program is the first in a series to be held during its 10th anniversary year.

As a counselor at Howard University, Ms. Chapman has offered workshops on the topic of helping men and women successfully confront problems associated with being single. She has also appeared on national and local television programs. Joining Ms. Chapman to offer personal perspectives will be Janet Harrell, producer of Channel 9's "Morning Break" (WDVM-TV), and Paul Porter, host of WKYS Radio's "Night Flight."

Staff members wishing to attend this hour meeting or activity must receive permission from their supervisors.

LCPA Special Interest Groups Plan June Meetings

The Special Interest Groups (SIGs) of the Library of Congress Professional Association have planned the following meetings for June. All meetings are strictly held to one-half hour, from 12:10 p.m. until 12:40 p.m., so that staff members may attend them on their lunch periods. The meetings are informal, and eating lunch during them is encouraged.

On June 5, the Special Interest Group on Ethnic Resources at the Library of Congress will have a discussion on topics of interest to the group: future plans and programs, follow-up on past programs, and suggestions for possible projects. The group will meet in the Copyright Office conference room (LM 403).

On June 19, the Special Interest Group on Special Collections in the Library of Congress will meet in the Processing Services large conference room (LM 642), for a program on the television catalog. Kathy Loughney and Sarah Rouse, both of the Motion Picture, Broadcasting and Recorded Sound Division, will speak on the catalog of early television holdings at the Library of Congress.

On June 26, the Special Interest Group on American Studies will meet in the Processing Services large conference room (LM 642). Leonard Beck of the Rare Book and Special Collections Division will speak on the topic, "Houdini: The Magic Collections of the Library of Congress."

Also on June 26, the Special Interest Group for Managers will meet in the Processing Services small conference room (LM 642). The topic of discussion will be announced at the meeting.

There will be no June meeting of the Special Interest Group on the History of the Library of Congress.

Representatives from NACO Participate in Meeting

An all-day meeting of representatives from the Name Authority Co-op (NACO) Project participating institutions was held on Monday, April 30, at the Library of Congress. The group convened to discuss how the Library could best assist participants in reducing costs related to the preparation of authority records for the national authority file.

At the semiannual meeting of the LC Cooperative Name Authority Discussion Group held in January during the ALA Midwinter Meeting, the issue of costs as a factor in limiting contribution to the national data base was raised. After the discussion, all NACO participating libraries were invited to designate a representative to serve on an ad hoc discussion group to investigate whether savings might be realized through simplification of procedures and changes in technical requirements.

In the interim between the ALA meeting and the April 30 meeting, the Library surveyed the 28 participants asking for information regarding activities that could be candidates for elimination or modification without compromising the quality of the national authority file. Twenty-six participants responded to this survey. The responses were compiled and comments then arranged by topic to form a single document to be used for the deliberations of the discussion group.

Fourteen of the 28 participants sent representatives to the Library for the NACO costs meeting.

The discussion group considered comments from the respondents that addressed such technical matters as sources-found citations, procedures for completing name authority worksheets, Library of Congress Rule Interpretations for cross-references and other heading-related concerns, NACO office staffing and workflow, and the format and layout of the Library's name authority worksheet.

The discussion group agreed that two changes should be implemented immediately: more flexibility in the application of procedural guidelines for completing name authority worksheets and discontinuation of the repetition of a heading in parentheses when it appears in the title in the sources-found citation. Other changes to be introduced in the near future include revision of certain cross-reference policies, liberalization of use of qualifiers in headings, and the addition of some permanent staff to NACO.

These and other changes in policy and procedures will be reported in full at the next meeting of the NACO participants to be held in June at the ALA Annual Conference. As more cost-effective ways to realize production of name authorities are brought into place for use by the NACO participants, most will be adopted simultaneously by the Library's cataloging staff as well in order to extend the benefits to the Library's internal operations.

New Bibliography Compiled On Kemal Atatürk

A new bibliography prepared by the Near East Section, African and Middle Eastern Division, is Kemal Atatürk, A Centennial Bibliography, 1881–1981, compiled by Abraham Bodurgil, area specialist. The bibliography focuses on Atatürk, but also covers political, social, and economic developments in modern Turkey during the period between the two world wars. The bibliography was planned in observance of the centennial of the birth of Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, founder and president of the Republic of Turkey, 1923–38, that occasioned various celebrations, symposia, and conferences held both in and outside of Turkey.

The bibliography contains more than 2,000 entries. Virtually all these are in western languages, including Russian, but chiefly in English. Some 154 Turkish authors are represented by 216 articles and books, and 35 other items produced by official Turkish agencies in western languages are included as well. Of the total entries, 1,250 are monographs and the remaining 767 are articles selected from 248 periodicals. Included in the count of monographs are 147 doctoral dissertations, 35 papers presented at symposia and conferences, and 11 motion pictures. Some 50 writings dealing with Atatürk were located in volumes that had no direct bearing on Turkey. About 300 of the listed items are not held by the Library of Congress.

The periodical sources are listed at the end of the bibliography together with their respective locations, dates of foundation, and Library of Congress call numbers. This listing is followed by an author index and an extensive subject index, which give item numbers for all entries in this bibliography by a particular author or about a particular subject. In an endeavor to render this bibliography as informative as possible to the student of Turkish affairs, the dates of birth and death of all Turkish personalities as well as dates of important treaties, documents, conferences, congresses, and events are reported in the subject index.

The bibliography may be purchased in person only from the sales shop on the ground floor of the Library of Congress Jefferson Building or by mail for $11 from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. (Stock No. 030-001-00104-1).
